

UNDERSERVED COMMUNITIES IN PALLIATIVE CARE

ZOOM WEBINAR

Thursday 4 September, 7.30 – 8.30am

BREAKFAST
SESSION

STELLA BLACK

*Research Fellow,
University of Auckland*

PROFESSOR MERRYN GOTT

Te Ārai Palliative Care and End of Life Research Group, School of Nursing, The University of Auckland

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR
JACKIE ROBINSON

*Nurse Practitioner in Palliative
Care, Associate Professor in the School of Nursing.*

Stella (Ngāi Tūhoe, Whakatōhea, Te Whānau-a-Apanui, Ngāti Whakaue) is a māmā, partner, kaiwhakaruruhau-ā-iwi, kairangahau, Kaitiāro and community volunteer. She is active in several Eastern Bay of Plenty trusts and is passionate about addressing inequities and promoting change.

Jackie focuses her research on social justice, equity, and care for structurally disadvantaged people.

Meryn, originally from the UK, is Co-Director of the Te Ārai Research Group. Together with Stella and Jackie, she co-led the Experiences of Underserved Communities in Palliative Care project.

The Te Ārai Research Group, commissioned by Te Whatu Ora, gathered insights from underserved communities to guide palliative care policy and practice. The resulting report highlights nine communities, reviews Māori and Pacific experiences, and introduces He Tapu Te Tangata—a model for delivering respectful, culturally safe care.

This presentation will share key findings and invite discussion on improving access and equity in palliative care.

REGISTRATIONS REQUIRED

Use the link:

<https://tinyurl.com/HOS4SEP>