CULTURAL SAFETY UNPACKED

REFLECT, LEARN, ACT

TUESDAY 1 APRIL, 7PM - 8PM

PRESENTER

MAARIE HUTANA

Nurse educator specialising in Māori health and health equity in clinical practice

Maarie is an academic nurse lecturer based in Ōtautahi, specialising in communication and Māori health, with experience in equity-focused roles across national and clinical settings. Guided by the values of aroha, rangatiratanga, and whanaungatanga, her work focuses on strengthening culturally responsive care.

Join us for a practical and engaging session that unpacks cultural safety, reflects on unconscious bias, and offers tools for creating respectful, inclusive, and responsive environments.
